MUMBAI (Commodity Online): Piramal Glass Ltd, leading specialty glass manufacturer for the Cosmetics & Perfumery (C&P), Pharmaceutical and Specialty Food & Beverages (SF&B) industries has appointed Damco as their supply chain partner.

This appointment is an extension to the business relationship that Piramal Glass had with Damco over the past few years.

"Our partnership with Damco will increase our speed to market, enabling us to respond to our global markets efficiently. Our supply chain is truly global and we are glad that we chose Damco who has an equally impressive global network", says Vijay Shah, Managing Director, Piramal Glass.

Piramal Glass is among the world's top five glass bottle makers by sales in the pharmaceutical segment, and the third largest manufacturer of cosmetics bottles by capacity, with combined installed capacity of 1,115 tonnes per day, and sales of USD 250 million worldwide. Piramal Glass has a large geographic footprint, with production facilities in India, USA, Sri Lanka and sales network spread across 70 countries.

Lars Sorensen, CEO, South Asia, Damco says: "We are very excited to see the confidence that Piramal Glass has shown in Damco. Our focus for Piramal Glass is to ensure a seamless supply chain, removing wastage, increasing reliability and providing a strong network that will supply Piramal's growth plans. We will continue to support Piramal Glass with opportunities through our innovative supply chain development programme."

Piramal glass is the only leading Asian glass manufacturer supplying to international Marquee clients across continents.
